Since writing a paragraph elsewhere on certain political moves, the Sacramento Bee remarks that the following article, editorial omitted "A Cabinet of Fossils," is the first mention of which it seems to have come to any significance.

Federal difficulties have been unduly added to by Republicans, for the purpose of defining all hostile attacks upon Democratic Administration as treasonable. It is to be remembered, however, that the Democratic party has not come to power with the Administration. But the present case is a very different one, and it seems to have been put after long and possible preparation, and with the full knowledge that the Administration would be powerless to defend itself.

Utah papers tell us that Governor Woods has a possible dozen with kets of camp rta [illegible] cannot see it in any event. The Salt Lake dependents are told pretty plainly that they are reduced to a beggarly condition.

Brooklyn, July 24.—The following gentlemen were sent to-day from Gen. Sheridan's headquarters to General George Crook at Omaha:
